

The 200 best value summer wines

selected by the Daily Mail's expert Matthew Jukes

For the fifth year, Weekend magazine has asked me to put together a list of my favourite 200 wines for a Summer Collection. This is such a wonderful challenge that starts with me tasting thousands of wines in order to whittle them down.

The wines must be the best of their kind in the country and stunning value for money. Most are new releases and there are loads of previews and first-time scoops too. It's increasingly difficult to find wines of the highest standard for my Weekend readers.

2016 Mâcon-Lugny

Louis Latour

Burgundy, France

Louis Latour is a winery which has been a favourite in the UK for aeons. I have always felt that the less expensive wines often offer as much excitement as the dear versions, so I am happy to introduce you to this excellent Mâcon-Lugny. With a grand feel, it will impress your stuffiest of wine bore friends.
