

Robb Report

The 50 Greatest Red Burgundies of the 21st Century (So Far)

Counting down the very best from the birthplace of Pinot Noir.

By Mike DeSimone and Jeff Jenson

Maison Louis Latour 2019 Clos de Vougeot Grand Cru

The Clos de Vougeot comprises 128 acres of vines with more than 80 different owners and multiple subdivisions of its many plots. The average vine age here is approximately 40 years and the resulting grapes have bold fruit flavors and cellaring potential of 20 years. We tasted the 2019 in 2025 and found aromas and flavors of cassis, purple flower, and black cherry accented by soft tannins and brown baking spices in the finish. It still has a lot of life so enjoy it over the next 15 years.