

Wine Spectator

October 30, 2017

Louis Latour 2015

95

Montrachet Grand Cru

“Lean and focused, offering lime blossom, acacia, lemon cake, citronella and chalk flavors. Reserved and a little austere on the finish, not a bad sign for a quality young white Burgundy. Overall, this shows fine integration and potential.”

97

Romanée-Saint-Vivant Grand Cru “Les Quatre Journaux”

“Though packed with black currant, blueberry and cherry fruit, this red is wrapped up in a firm structure today, giving an austere feel. All the components are in the right proportion and there’s no denying the saturated aftertaste that echoes the core of cherry.”

94

Clos Vougeot Grand Cru

“This is pure, exuding red and black cherry, earth, mineral and subtle woody notes. Dark and brooding, with excellent balance and length.”

95

Grands Echézeaux Grand Cru

“Supple and dense, offering beautiful cherry, mineral, earth and spice flavors. Harmonious and superlong in the aftertaste, lending this an air of approachability, yet this is well-structured and built for the long haul.”

93

Echézeaux Grand Cru

“This is tightly wound and linear in profile, with concentrated flavors of black cherry, violet, earth and tar, held together by bright acidity and chalky tannins.”

Wine Spectator

October 30, 2017

Louis Latour 2015

93

Vosne-Romanée 1er Cru "Les Petits Monts"

"Effusive, fruity aromas of black currant, violet, earth and stone mark this elegant, silky red. Vibrant and firmly structured, this reveals light hints of oak spice on the lingering finish."

92

Gevrey-Chambertin

"A tantalizing earthiness pervades this cherry-laced red, with accents of iron and tobacco. Powerful and dense, yet remains fresh and long on the finish."

90

Marsannay

"Smoky cherry flavors and a sweet smell of burning vine cuttings mark this slim red. Juicy, firm and balanced, with a lightly chewy finish."

90

Mercurey

"Austere yet pure. A light smoky note adds sweetness to the cherry and strawberry fruit in this lean red. Reveals a chalky feel as this plays out on the finish."

90

Nuits-St.-Georges

"A taut, wiry version, with chalky tannins fused to cherry and black currant flavors. Accents of earth and spice fill this out. Long finish."