Description

It was in 1924 that the village of Auxey joined its name to that of their best parcel of vines "Les Duresse" therefore becoming Auxey-Duresse. This village is graced with the prestigious neighbours of Pommard and Volnay, and whilst these two communes produce uniquely reds the commune of Auxey-Duresse produces reds on the hill of Bourdon which is an extension of Volnay and then whites on the fine soils on the Mélian hill. The Auxey-Duresse whites are generally speaking flattering and smooth without being too heavy. However the whites only represent a quarter of the total production and therefore are sufficiently rare to not miss a chance to try them!

Wine tasting

- TASTING NOTE Our Auxey-Duresse blanc 2012 is of a lovely pale yellow shimmering colour. The nose is floral and the palate offers delicious flavors of yellow fruits and fresh almond with notes of vanilla and brioche. It is round and has a nice minerality on the finish.
