Description

Marsannay is the village which marks the northern gateway to the Côte d'Or on leaving Dijon, the capital of Burgundy and home to the Ducs de Bourgogne. This village marks the beginning of the Route des Grands Crus which follows the N6 highway through the Côte d'Or. Wines from Marsannay are generally lively and robust; characteristics that come from the rich iron soil. Marsannay received its Appellation Contrôlée as recently as 1987 in recognition of the consistently high quality of its wine.

Wine tasting

- TASTING NOTE This wine has a beautiful garnet colour in the glass and a delicate fruity nose with vegetal aromas coming through. In the mouth this Marsannay has finesse with balanced acids and soft tannins marrying together to produce a rounded structure with fruity vegetal flavours. Tasted 28/05/2004
