Description

"Clos des Toisières" used to be a small quarry. 'Toisières' is derived from the word 'toit' (roof), and refers to the huge flat stones coming from this quarry sometimes used as roofs. Maison Louis Latour has the monopoly on this climat situated on the higher south-east facing slopes in the pretty little village of Monthélie, hidden away between the vineyards of Meursault and Volnay. Despite its imposing neighbours, Monthélie produces highly aromatic, robust red wines such as this "Clos des Toisières".

Wine tasting

- TASTING NOTE Our Monthélie 1er Cru « Clos des Toisières » 2016 shows a nice ruby red colour. On a background of undergrowth notes, this wine gives out aromas of blackcurrant and mocha. The mouth, fresh and graceful, reminds notes of blackcurrant. The tannins are silky.
- CELLARING POTENTIAL 5-6 years
- FOOD PAIRING Grilled meat - "coq au vin" - flash-fried steak - mature cheeses.
- SERVING TEMPERATURE 15-17°
